Spread the word

Use these templates when sharing the call for papers, speaker announcements, or registration deadline via social media.

The Call for Papers for #SPIEXR is now open. I invite you to submit to the Optical Architectures for Displays and Sensing in Augmented, Virtual, and Mixed Reality technical conference. The program committee looks forward to seeing your research!

The #SPIEXR program is ready! We are pleased to share that the technical conference program is available to browse now on SPIE's website. Take a look and mark your calendars for the upcoming event, we hope to see you there.

The registration deadline is coming up next month for #SPIEXR in San Francisco, California. I hope you will consider joining us for three days of interesting talks, speakers, and collaboration! We have been working on building a program you won't want to miss.
